Oratorical Events, Other

For the first time in the history of Elizabeth City county the patriotic spirit of the people appears to have dropped before the line of normal activity. This is particularly noticeable among the younger element of the population, those who saw service in the field during the war between the states showing a much more marked disposition to take up arms against the haughty castilians. Just why it is that now, when there is a call from the head of the nation to face a forcommon to us all, the young men of Elizabeth City county should fall to show themselves the sons of those Virginia patriots whose fervent spirit stirred the valor of the people in other years, is for the most part conjecture. But the fact remains that after three weeks of industrious effort upon the part of Captain Hope, the Peninsufa Guards are unable to muster but fifty-seven men sworn in as soldiers of the government and pledged to follow the stars and stripes wherever the fortunes of war may carry them.

Had the call of the President for volunteers limited the field of action to the United States there is not the slightest reason to doubt that Captain Hope would be able this morning to march to the front at the head of two hundred as brave young men as ever leveled muskets at a fee. But the thought of a long campaign under tropical skies, at a season when the rain is poured out in torrents and burning fevers dig more graves than Spanish bullets make necessary, has caused hundreds who—were the hard-ships of war to be encountered confined to the perils of the buttlefield.

extreme Southern section of this country.

For the benefit of those whose dread of the tropleal climate has deterred them from enlisting in the service, it may not be amiss to remark that the government has made ample provision for caring for the sick. The men will be abundantly supplied with food and clothing suited to the climatic conditions of the island, and, in view of the fact that camp life will be confined to the high and healthful country toward the interior, a sojourn of a month or two in Cuba would be more likely to prove beneficial than harmful. There are scores of hale and hearty young men in this country who work hard every day, year in and year out, in the midst of conditions more dangerous as disease-breeding agencies than those with which as soldiers they would meet in the highlands of Cuba. Those who fail ill will- be promptly transferred to a hospital ship and, if need be, returned to the continent.

ORDER COUNTERMANDED.

manded by Captain Story, an officer who is highly esteemed at the garrison and by scores of civilians to whom he is known. It was said yesterday that Battery E, also of the Fourth artillery, would probably go South within a fortnight. Captain Stewart has asked the department to order his men into active service, and in addition has requested that they be changed from heavy to light artillery. As matters now stand, however, Captain Stewart may have to remain at Fort Monroe. A New York regiment, 1,500 strong, is Madame Clussie Ordered to Leave Phoebus at Once.

Gussie, the white woman who was responsible for the shooting that ended the life of Riddick Barnes, at Phoebus, Tuesday morning, has been warned to leave the place under penalty of speedy and severe punishment. Yes terday she received a letter, written in a hand so jumbled as to make it impossible to detect the author, to which the fear inspiring name "White Caps" was signed in bold characters. The communication contains threats of a more caused the woman to conclude that it did not emanate from the people who are concerned with respect to the moral welfare of the place.

Vesterday morning she brought the letter to this city and showed it to Commonwealth's Attorney Collier, who began an investigation which is likely to involve at least one of the female admirers of Charlle Chisman, the man who shot and killed Barnes. The probability is that the White Cap missive was prompted by jealousy.

NEW YORK, May 14.—There was a very obxious disposition today in speculative circles to leave the stock market atone, pending the developments of the next moves of the Spanish and American squadrons. London's quiet feeling was due to the plain speaking of the British secretary of state for the colonies, Mr. Chamberlin, as to the Bixelihood of a European coalition without Great Britain. Apparently no account was taken by the dealers in securities of the speaker's assurance that intervention in favor of Spain would sot be assented to by Great Britain. In fact all considerations turned on the expected news from Admiral Sampson. The offerings for London account were well absorbed in spite of the prevailing duliness, and prices were lifted above the London parity. Fractional net hosses were the rule at the close. The latter part of the week has been a reaction in the stock market, but the last prices are still substantially above those of Saturday except in same of the specialties. Net gains range from a fractation in the stock market, but the specialties. Net gains range from a fraction in the foot market.
